

Cardiac Sonographer/Cardiac Physiologist – weekend waiting list project

The Surgical Consortium provide insourced clinical services within the NHS with a strong focus on clinical governance and clinical excellence. Our rapid growth has been fuelled solely by onward referral as we focus on providing exceptional service that benefits patients, staff and the Trust's we work with.

We are seeking Cardiac Sonographers/Cardiac Physiologists who are experienced and highly competent in echocardiography to complete short-term projects to help reduce waiting lists within the NHS.

It is mandatory that the practicing sonographer is able to accurately report the echocardiogram in a concise and accurate manner so that the Cardiologist is able to use this data for subsequent management of patients.

The project would be conducted in East Anglia over the weekend for approximately 10 weeks with both weekend and weekday lists. Candidates are able to choose which weekends and specific days of the week they are able to work, it is not expected for each candidate to be available for the entire project. The scans are limited to adult patients only.

Applicants must have a BSc in Clinical Physiology (Cardiology) / PTP or equivalent and meet the requirements of RCCP/HCPC registration as well as holding a professional echo accreditation.
